This project is based on Web Development And its Applications. The main objective of this project is to learn the implementation of HTML, CSS and JavaScript. The basic webpage of this project is created using HTML and styling of the webpage is done using CSS.

WEBSITE OF LEAF NOW

The most important feature of LEAF NOW is connecting enthusiasts. Ever since industrialization Started, the care has made it to our least priority list, even though mankind requires plants to balance the food chain that he's a part of, but the plant enthusiasts are everywhere, be it big metropolitan cities or rural areas, so we aim to bring in a platform that can connect these plant/nature enthusiasts and help them exchange/sell them plants or donate seeds/plants as part of the green initiative that we started 2 years back.

INTRODUCTION

It's hard to beat the convenience of shopping online, even for plants. But you might be surprised by the ways traditional garden centers and nurseries are evolving to keep your business. When shopping for plants these days, we are spoiled for choice. We can search online and have just about anything shipped to our door. But not long ago, the best option was spending a pleasant Saturday afternoon browsing a nearby garden center for a wide range of familiar plants, as well as more unusual ones.

Over the last decade, these small businesses have had a tough time weathering the Great Recession, competition from big box stores, and most of all, the increasing prevalence of online plant vendors. All of these factors together would seem enough to spell the end of the mom-and-pop garden center—yet we're pleasantly surprised that almost the opposite appears to be happening.

E-commerce may not be the end of garden centers, but it is changing how they operate. "We're not immune, something we think about all the time," says Matt Stueck, the owner of Suburban Lawn & Garden, a nursery founded by his father, which now has three locations in the Kansas City area. His plant business is thriving, but he says that e-commerce has had an impact on his sales of other goods, like decorative containers and garden ornaments. "We are definitely more cautious now with the non-plant items that we stock.".
